

Innovation Awards

Nominations for the Innovation Award were based on demonstration of excellence and creativity in supporting quality of care across the continuum.

Innovation Award winner Lori Mitchell—Centre on Aging, University of Manitoba (right) with Nancy White, CIHI Manager, Home and Continuing Care (left) and RCMP honour guard.

Award winners included:

Lori Mitchell—Centre on Aging, University of Manitoba. Co-authors: Verna Menec, Audrey Blandford, Scot Nowicki—“Long Term Care Strategy: An Examination of Clients Across the Care Continuum”

Kathy Chouinor—Interior Health, British Columbia. Co-authors: Sue VanNoortwyk, Lanett Nordick—“Residential Care Admission Package Incorporating RAI-MDS 2.0” (poster)

Kevin Druhan—Continuing Care Branch, Nova Scotia Department of Health. Co-author: Beth Rajnovich—“Data Makes the Difference: Allocating New Long Term Care Beds in Nova Scotia”

Len Gray—University of Queensland, Princess Alexandra Hospital, Brisbane, Australia. “Telemedicine in Acute Care”